RAILROAD HEADS REFUSE UNIONS' WAGE REQUESTS

Request for Delay in Reduction of Wages Ordered By Board Ignored

LINES FACING CRISIS

Intimated That a General Strike Affecting all Railroads May Shortly Be Ordered By Unions.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Representatives of the nation's railroads today, after announcing that they cannot reduce freight rates at present without going into bankruptcy and that they would immediately seek a further reduction in the wages of employes from the United States Railroad Labor Board, went into a futile conference with union leaders in an effort to reach an amicable settlement of wage difficulties, which at times have threatened to tie up the transportation system of the country.

At the conference union leaders asked consideration of their request of last July that a 12 1-2 per cent wage reduction granted by the Labor Board be not put into effect imtions be sought at further reductions eb sought at present and that no change be made in the over time pay rate. This request was refused and the rail heads presented their statement, announcing the proposal to seek new reductions and not to reduce rates until further reductions were granted.

The labor leaders left the conference immediately and few of them would discuss its proceedings or predict the results.

"I am no prophet," said Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, "What will hoppen is more than I can say."

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, refused to discuss the situation after the meeting, but previous to it had said that "the roads must be crasy to seek a new reduction when the men have just authorized a strike over an old wage cut."

R. S. Binkerd, of the Association of Railway Executives, said that

D.A.R. CONFERENCE

Dr. Kate Waller Barrett Re-elected State Regent

The recent State Conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which met at Roanoke, was one which will go down in history as the most important ever held by this organization. In addition to the routine business of the association certain features were added which will be especial value to the State in the future. Most important of these is the establishing of an endowment of $50,000, the interest of which shall be used for the perpetuation of the organization. This endowment fund is different from the ordinary endowment funds in that a gift of $100 will carry the name of the donor upon the roll of the Society for all time if a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Persons not members and who are acceptable and contribute $100 will be carried on the memorial roll of honor. A number of subscriptions have already been received, the first one being made by Mrs. Edmonia Maupin of Portsmouth, in memory of Mrs. Jamison of Roanoke, past Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The Loan Scholarship Fund has reached a handsome sum as two students, one at Radford Normal and the other at William and Mary are being assisted from this fund.

Additional State Committees were appointed as follows: Education, legislation, and for Ivakota Farms. The Daughters endorsed this work about two years ago and have worked so ardently in its behalf that more than $100,000 has been pledged for the endowment.

Through the activity of the Daughters, Virginia led all other States in its contribution for patriotic education, more than $45,000 having been contributed.

The total receipts and disbursements for the Daughters of Virginia for the past year was $58,000.

The following officers were elected:

State Regent, Dr. Kate Waller Barrett.

Vice-State Regent, Mrs. James R. Schick.

Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. James Kyle.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. T. S. Wallis.

Treasurer, Mrs. Nathaniel Beaman.

Historian, Mrs Robert L. Peirce.

Registrar, Mrs. Arthur K. Davis.

Librarian, Mrs W. W. Richardson.

The Daughters also endorsed the movement of the Manassas Confederate Memorial Park and pledged their assistance in every way possible.

INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP OF HOUSE BLOCKED

Reapportionment Measure is Ordered Returned To Committee

NINE HOUR DEBATE

Amendment Designed to Reduce Representation of Southern States Overwhelmingly Defeated.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The House recorded its opposition tonight to any increase in its membership, recommitting to the Census Committee by a vote of 146 to 142 the Siegel bill to increase its size from 435 to 460 members.

The vote was taken on a motion to recommit offered by Representative Fairfield, of Indiana, Republican member of the Census Committee, after nine hours of debate and wringling over parliamentary procedure.

Previous to recommitting the bill the House rejected (140 to 146) an amendment by Representative Barbour, Republican, California, to authorize reapportionment without any increase in membership. Another amendment offered by Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts, to decrease the membership to 425 was smothered under an avalanche of "noes." Eleven Southern States, which Mr. Tinkham charged had disfranchised negroes, would have lost 33 seats and Massachusetts 1 under his amendment, while a gain of 24 seats would have been split among a dozen States which made considerable gains in population during the last decade.

It was the second time within a year that the House has blocked efforts to increase its size, during the last session a bill to fix the membership at 483 being defeated. At that time another bill providing for reapportionment under the 1920 census without increasing the number of members was passed by the House, but no action was taken on it by the Senate.

Opponents of the bill last night contended that the House already was an unwieldly body and that it would function less efficiently with an increased membership. Chairman Siegel and Representative Larsen, of Georgia, Democratic member of the committee, pleaded for the measure, while Represntatives Fairfield and Rankin, Democrat, Mississippi, directed the attack against it. Party lines were disregarded in the final vote.

Announcement by Representative Mondell, the Republican leader, that, although he had opposed an increase in the size of the House at the last session, he favored the Siegel bill, brought criticism from several Republicans opposed to the measure, Representative Cooper, Wisconsin, and Beedy, Maine, being particularly emphatic in their remarks.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 15.—Seventy-four years ago 164 army officers of the United States met in the President's palace in the City of Mexico and formed the Aztec Club, resolving to have an annual dinner to celebrate the capture of the capital of Mexico by the American army under General Scott. Last night the same club met at the Army and Navy Club in this city for its annual dinner, but when it met, only one of the original members sat at the banquet table.

He was General H. C. Gibson of Washington, 94 years old, the only survivor of the 164 founders of the club. Speeches were made by Major General James G. Harbord for the army, Admiral R. E. Coontz for the navy and Major General J. A. Lejeune for the Marine Corps.

Mrs. Clara V. Sullivan of this city has a pair of leggins worn by John Wilkes Booth a few hours before he shot President Lincoln. They were dropped by Booth while making an unsuccessful attempt to hire a horse from Mrs. Sullivan's father just before the fatal shot was fired in Ford's Theatre. Mrs. Sullivan's father kept a livery stable on G street between Sixth and Seventh streets and on the tragic day Booth tried to hire a horse from him. On being refused, Booth became very angry, according to Mrs. Sullivan, and after a few hot words threw his riding leggins down on the floor and left them. Her father placed the leggins in his desk and thought no more about them until after the assassination of the President and then, owing to the suspicion cast upon all who had come in contact with Booth previous to the fatal night, he decided to keep quiet and not mention them.

Whenever Congressman "Nick" Longworth delivers an address in the House he is sure of one interested spectator in the gallery—his fascinating and charming wife—the former Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the late President Roosevelt. Mrs. Longworth is unsparing with her applause when "Nick" has the floor, and she often gives the "cue" for a demonstration when he makes a telling point. Frequently, the Congressman, during his address, glances at his wife, seeking encouragement, which he always gets. When there is a "field day" in the Senate, Mrs. Longworth moves over to the other side of the Capitol and follows the debates with the neenest interest. By some she is considered a wonderful politician, probably by inheritance. Now that women have the right to suffrage, there is talk that Mrs. Longworth may enter the Congressional areana herself if her husband decides to become a candidate for Senator from his native state of Ohio.

A large pair of gum shoes attracted much attention during the past week at the House Office Building on Capitol Hill. Speculation was rife as to their presence. Some cynics declared they were there for the accommodation of bootleggers. Which recalls there is a big fight among the bootleggers for the trade in the House Office Building.

Representative Clarence J. McLeod is the "baby of the Congress." He is just past the age limit of 25 years required for a member of the House and comes from the Thirteenth Michigan district.

He is a fine looking, clean-cut chap and has made a fine impression among his colleagues. Although he does not often take part in the debates, his colleagues from Michigan say he is an orator of note and will give a good account of himself before his present term expires.

The best joke of the week comes out of the Department of Justice.

While at work one of the girls employed in the filing room was crushed under some heavy files which toppled over unexpectedly. She was knocked unconscious and several of her associates rushed through the building calling for assistance. Several men came to the rescue and lifted the heavy files from her body. In a short time she partly revived and someone suggested:

"If we only had a little whiskey."

Several of the men mysteriously disapeared, but shortly returned, each bearing a good-sized bottle of a popular brand of the real stuff. The victim quickly responded to treatment and there is much speculation among the clerks as to where the Department keeps its supply for "medicinal purposes."

Bible Thought for Today

GUARD YOUR THOUGHTS: — Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things—Philippians 4:8.

STATE NEWS

Christiansburg—After being deprived of a county newspaper since June, Christiansburg is soon to have another. On July 1, John R. Eoff & Son moved their plant to Blacksburg and installed it in the V. P. I. for instruction in journalism, and suspended publication of the Montgomery Messenger, which has been a regular weekly visitor in the families of the county for over a half a century.

On November 1, a new county weekly will begin with George B. Terrell as editor and owner.

Danville—Two Girls in knickerbockers, one wearing a regulation youth's outfit, even to the derby and cane, and the other a curious melange of trousers and women s attire, caused little more than a ripple when they made their first appearance here this afternoon. The chorus beauties were not molested by the police when they emerged from a theatre thus clad, but they did not stay out long.

Richmond—The state department of game and inland fisheries is expecting a hard winter, and is already planing for the protection of Virginia partridges, which are again plentiful. Realizing the havoc done by the severe winter of 1917-1918 and "fearing the deep snows and zero weather" the department is writing to sportsmen throughout the state to do their part in the preservation of game life during the cold months to come.

Williamsburg—A real old-fashioned luncheon will tempt the appetite of President Harding, the presidential party and the delegates from colleges and universities when they visit the College of William and Mary on October 19.

Hot chicken pie, Smithfield ham and cold saddle of mutton, three components of all good Virginia menus for fall dinners, will be served at the college, with the ladies of the faculty and the Colonial chapter officiating.

Roanoke—The appearance of a woman who tried to have wearing apparel charged to a prominent local citizen while posing as his daughter, resulted Tuesday in the Retail Merchants Association issuing a general warning for all merchants of the city to be on the lookout for "fake" relatives wanting to use "dad's" charge account. The attempt that led to the warning was frustrated by the clerk who knew "dad" and that there was no daughter of such age.

Fredericksburg—The Virginia Division United Daughters of the Confederacy prize for the best essay on "Virginia's Part in the Confederate Navy" was awarded to Miss Josephine Barney, of Fredericksburg. The announcement was made at the annual meeting U. D. C. in Richmond Thursday night.

Hampton—Major A. G. Fisher, director of lighter than air activities at Langley Field, suffered two broken ribs this morning when he was thrown from the basket of a pony blimp to the ground, a distance of thirty feet. Lieutenant Byron Burt, also thrown out, was not injured.

Norfolk—Fire of incendiary orgin destroyed fourteen cottages at Willoughby Beach this morning.

A dozen or more families were driven from their homes, many barely escaping in night attire.

Newport News—There now are 325 Shipping Board steamers anchored at Camp Eustis and the anchorage is being surveyed today with a view of bringing several score more here to tie up until the shipping depression shall have passed.

Richmond—Before adjourning its annual session today the foreign mission board of the Southern Baptist convention adopted its 1922 budget of $2,928,021. This represents an advance of $100,000 over last year and takes care of work on eighteen foreign fields.

Credit Men Hold Meeting

To Represent Virginia At Goucher College Conference

Goucher College women of Virginia will be represented at a national conference of alumnae and former students, to be held at Baltimore Oct. 21-22, by May Lansfield Keller, dean of Westhampton College, Richmond, and Mrs. William H. Nes, 18 Walnut Street, Alexandria.

The conference is to lay plans for Goucher's $6,000,000 fund, the greater part of which is to be devoted to moving the college from its present site in the heart of Baltimore to a recently acquired plot of 421 acres at Towson, on the outskirts of the city. Each of the 3,600 Goucher women throughout the country will be asked to give or get $421—one dollar an acre.

SEES ENGINES RUN

False Fire Alarm Today Cost Colored Boy $25

John Morrison, an eleven year old colored boy, wanted to see the fire engines run. In order to do so, he turned in an alarm of fire shortly before 7 o'clock this morning. His every wish was gratified. In a few minutes he saw the entire fire department ready for action. His delight was keen. He simply had turned in an alarm from the telephone at the old Paff shoe factory building, Washington and St. Asaph streets, and in exactly three minutes afterward his wish was gratified.

Joy, however, was soon turned to gloom, for a short time afterward Chief of Police Goods appeared on the scene and started an investigation and two hours afterward the boy was arraigned before Justice Snow and fined $25 with the alternative of spending a year in the reform school. Relatives paid his fine and he promised to refrain from turning in false fire alarms in the future.

FANNON-CATTSNUPTIALS

A very pretty wedding was solemnized this morning at the rectory of St. Mary's Church by the Rev. Lawrence Kelly, when Mrs. Charlotte Fannon became the bride of Mr. Oliver Catts. They were attended by Miss Grace Martin, of Washington, and Mr. E. J. McDermott, of Alexandria.

The bride wore a blue traveling suit and hat to match and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The ceremony was witnessed by the families of the contracting parties. They left immediately for an extended trip through the north.

POLICY TO BE FRAMED SOON BY DELEGATES

Secretary Hughes Expected To Call Meeting of Associates Next Week

NOW STUDYING DATA

Labor Advisors Already Appointed French Premier is Planning Long Visit to This Country.

Washington, Oct 15.—The course that will be followed by the American delegates to the Arms Conference will be mapped out at a meeting to be held not later than next Friday, it was learned today. It is thought likely, too, that by that time President Harding will have selected the American Advisory delegation.

It is expected that at the coming meeting of the delegates Secretary Hughes will suggest to Senators Lodge and Underwood and Elihu Root, who with the Secretary of State will compose the American delegation, an outline of the course he believes the delegation, should follow both in regard to the American policy and the order in which it may be preferred that topics should be discussed.

In the meantime the individual delegates are closely studying the data prepared for their information by the experts of the State, War and Navy Departments, together with brochures on a number of concrete subjects which relate to American policies and treat of their historical, economic and political aspects.

It is considered impossible that an announcement will be made of concrete projects prepared by the American experts which now are being studied by the delegates and which may be proposed to the conference, but there is an expectation that in his welcoming address President Harding will outline the American ideals and those which he is convinced have won the approval of the public opinion of the world.

At the White House today it was said that the President was not yet ready to announce the personnel of the American advisory delegation, which is to consist of from 12 to 15 members, and it is thought now that the official list will not be closed until after the next meeting of the American delegates, who, it is said, will pass on the names.

Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor, made public today a supplementary list of persons who have accepted membership on labor's limitation of armament advisory committee The commit-

RELIGIOUS PAGEANT

Christ Church Ceremonies Next Week Will Be Most Impressive

The value of the pageant is the lesson that it teaches, if viewed in any other light it fails of its purpose. If only the beauty of the scene is considered, the white robes, the wonderful wings, the stately lilies of the angels. The roled clergy and choir and in contrast the vivid dashes of color from all the nations and people that assemble near the cross. If it is only a beautiful lyric drama to charm the eye and the familiar music to please the ear, then all the effort of the church in this particular connection with the nation wide campaign is lost.

But if we approach the pageant in a spirit of devotion and a desire to understand its spiritual signife then it will cease to be only a spectacular effect of beauty but it will greatly increase our interest in the mission work of the church and be a faint foe shadowing of the time when the dream of the ages will come true and the world shall in reality come under the complete dominion of the cross.

How much importance is attached to this church pageant is shown by the immediate response and hearty co-operation with the three Episcopal churches on the part of the faculty of the Theoligacl Seminary for they will take part in the pageant, as will laso Bishop Tyler, one of our missionary bishops.

When the background of the pageant, as will also Bishop Tyler, one the clergy and the choir, the various groups of home and foreign people stroll across the church yard they sauter quietly along without any definite purpose attracted by the music and the three voices they stop to listen while Dr. Klipstein as a physician, and Mrs. Klipstein as a nurse, step forward to heal the bodies of those who are sick, they lead them to teachers or friends who in turn bring them to the church represented by the Professors of the Seminary who stand at the base of the platform to give them a welcome. Then Bishop Tyler advances across the church yard and receives the people from the hand of the clergy into the fold. The Bishop pronounces the benediction and then leads the procession in returning to the Parish Hall.

VIRGINIA CENSUS FIGURES

The returns of the Fourteenth Census, taken in January, 1920, as to illiteracy in Virginia, make interesting reading. Among the larger cities of the state, Alexandria makes a favorable showing, her illiteracy among the white population being only 1.2 per cent. New port News ranks first, with four-tenths of one percent. Second, Portsmouth, with eight-tenths of one per cent; third, Richmond, with one percent; fourth, Norfolk and Charlottesville, each with 1.1 per cent; fifth, Alexandria, with 1.2 per cent; sixth, Fredericksburg, with 1.5 per cent; seventh, Roanoke, with 1.8 per cent; eighth Lynchburg, with 2.1 per cent; ninth, Winchester, with 2.7 per cent; tenth Suffolk, with 2.9 per cent; eleventh, Petersburg, with 3.3 per cent; twelfth, Staunton, with 4.1 per cent; thirteenth, Harrisonburg, with 4.9 per cent; fourteenth, Danville, with 6.3 per cent; and fifteenth, Bristol, with 9.1 per cent.

Among the counties, including both whites and negroes, Arlington stands at the head, with 3.8 percent. Fairfax comes next, with 4.3 per cent. Loudoun likewise ranks high, having only 6 per cent. The percentage of illiteracy among the negroes in the various counties, runs from 11.8 per cent in Bath County to 37.1 per cent in Dinwiddie.

Alexandria had 27,3 per cent of her population negroes in 1910, and in 1920 22.8 per cent. The state of Virginia had 32.6 per cent of negroes in 1910 and 29.9 per cent in 1920, of her total population. The negro population, however, increased 2.8 per cent in the decade, and the white population increased 16.4 per cent.

More than nine-tenths, or, to be exact, 94.8 per cent of the white people in the state, are native Americans, born of native parents. There are 824 Indians, 278 Chinese, 56 Japanese, 97 Filipinos, and 6 Hindus in the Old Dominion. In almost every county in the state the percentage of negroes has decreased, and in 79 of the 100 counties there is likewise a decrease in the actual number. The county with the least percentage is Carroll, with one per cent. The county with the greatest percentage is Sussex, with 65.7 per cent. There are fifty-two counties with more than a third of the population negroes, and twenty-two counties, with more than half.

More than one third of the people are either infants or under fifteen years of age. 10 per cent are between the ages of 15 and 19 years; 35.4 per cent are men and women from 20 to 44 years old; while 18 per cent are 45 years of age and over. The ratio of men to women of the class over 21 years, is as 103 to 100.

We have been at some pains to collate these figures for our readers, as the census statistics are always interesting and some times instructive.

U. OF VA. FAVORITE

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 15.—Virginia rules the favorite in the game with the Flying Cadets of V. M. I. in Lexington today The contest has attracted wide attention throughout the state and should be one of the hardest fought battles scheduled for today on the southern gridiron.

The Virginia ssuad, twenty-five strong, and in the pink of condition left Charlottesville Friday noon for Lexington, after a royal send-off by the student body. A special train bearing a thousand Virginia rooters from among the students and supporters of the team in Charlottesville left here early this morning for Lexington and similar specials from other Virginia cities will swell the crowd who will witness the contest and the dedication of the new athletic stadium in Lexington.

This is the seventeenth game between these two teams since 1893. Virginia is well in the lead, having won 12, lost 2 and tied one, amassing a total of 332 points to 78 by the Cadets and holding them scoreless in ten games. This is the first game to be played between the two in Lexington since 1900.

High School Notes

In spite of the long distance and cold weather the game last Saturday was well attended by the students of both E. H. S. and A. H. S. Although our boys put up a splendid fight, they were defeated by a score of 28 to 0. However, we are not in the least discouraged, and are quite confident that in our game with Gonzaga College, which will be staged on Baggett's field on Saturday, October 22, there will be another victory for A. H. S. This college has a very strong team and a snappy game may be expected.

The program for our weekly assembly which was held on Wednesday follows: Prayer, Mr. Knight; "Star-Spangled Banner." The School; Story telling, The Man Without a Country, Vinita Smith; Vocal solo, "Japanese Love Song," by Gwendolyn Ganes with Louise Anderson as accompanist; Recitation. Virginia Wilkins; Reading. A Word About Stove Coal:--

For the past few years it has been impossible to secure enough Anthracite Stove coal to supply the demand which has been caused by the limited amount of this particular size which can be developed at the mines

The Egg, Nut and Pea coals are all domestic sizes of Anthracite and in practically every case one of them, or a good Domestic Bituminous coal, can be satisfactorily and economically substituted for the Stove coal and we ask our trade to study the question of a practical substitute as the scarcity of Stove coal is in no way a local problem but has to be contended with in practically all sections where Anthracite coal is generally used.

REO

SPEED WAGON

An Exception to all Rules

You always expect to obtain an imitation for less than you'd have to pay for the original from which that imitation was copied.

Now it's a strange fact that though many imitations have been made of this Reo Speed Wagon, none have been able to duplicate its high efficiency or low upkeep.

Nor has any been able to equal Reo efficiency in manufacturing.

As a result—and this is a condition unprecedented in commerce—they have to charge more for the imitation than we price the original at.

Make the Family Glad; Get An Anchor Top
Winter driving in an open car or a car equipped with loose, leaky side curtains is doubly a hardship for women. An Anchor Top will give them, and you, the cozy comfort, the dignity and style, of a fine closed car.
Women are glad to drive to social functions in a car transformed by an Anchor Top. It fits the car as if cast in the same mold.
Anchor Top crystal glass door windows raise and lower noiselessly. Doors fit and operate perfectly. Upholstery is in fine whipcord; illumination from a handsome dome light.
Drive your car in today and we will equip it with an Anchor Top at once. The cost of an Anchor Top is too low, in comparison to the comfort it affords, for you and the family to try to get along without.
We will be glad to supply car owners, who do not live in this vicinity, with the name of their local dealer.

YOUTHFUL DEPRAVITY AND DESPERATION

The papers gave an account, a few days since, of a boy, 13 or 14 years old, at Williamsburg, Va., having shot himself on the 10th instant, in consequence of receiving a chastisement from his father. An instance of equal singularity and sewage hardihood occurred in this city on Friday last, when Daniel Caugholin, a boy 14 or 15 years old, and small of his age, having been corrected by his master for swimming in the river, immediately went and hanged himself with his handkerchief!

PISTOL BATTLE STAGED IN STREETS HERE

four shots. Bullets of both parties went wide of their mark. The police a short time before the shooting were notified that a colored man had broken into a house on the west side of St. Asaph between Gibbon and Franklin streets, and had chased the occupants out. A few minutes after the message was received, Policeman Talbot called up police chadquarters and he was requested to investigate the case. When he arrived on the scene the man who had just left the place saw the officer and when the officer got within thirty feet of him he pulled out his pistol and began firing, and the officer promptly returned the fire. The negro ran east on Franklin street and utrned northward into Pitt, and then went down Gibbon streets toward the river and soon was lost sight of.

As the negro passed a pool room at Gibbon and Pitt streets he remarked to one of the men staniding on the corner to bring the men in the room out and he would shoot them full of holes. He evidently thought that one of his bullets struck the officer.

The police have the name of the man whom they suspect of the shooting and they say that only recently he was arrested in a crap game and was fined $10 in the police court. In the opinion of the police the man has left the city.

A colored man giving the name of William Bing, about 24 years old, was taken in custody at 11 o'clock this morning at the corner of Washington and Wilkes streets on a charge of having done the shooting. The arrest was made by Policemen Nowland and Lawrence Padgett.

When brought to headquarters Bing admitted having broken into the house in question saying he went their to see a girl. The prisoner, however, emphatically denies that he fired at Policeman Talbot and says he had no pistol. Bing furnished the police with the name of a man who mhe claims did the shooting.

Bing will be given a hearing at 9 o'clock Monday morning in the police court.

TOO ILL TO WORK

A Mother Tells How Her Daughter Was Made Well Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Philadelphia, Pa.—"At the age of sixteen my daughter was having trouble every month. She had bad pains across her back and in her sides, her back would pain her so that she could not do her work and would have to lie down. My married daughter recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She took it faithfully and is now regular and has no pain. We recommend the Vegetable Compound and give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. KATIE EICHER, 4034 N. Fairhill St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions and often with wet feet, young girls contract deranged conditions, and before they are hardly aware of it they develop headaches, backache, irregularities, nervousness and bearing-down pains, all of which are symptoms of woman's ills. If every mother who has a daughter suffering from such symptoms would profit by the experience of Mrs. Eicher and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial she may expect the same happy result.

PLENTY OF PROOF.

From People You Know—From Alexandria Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail who can be seen at any time. Ask your neighbor! Read the following case of it:

C. E. Davis, fireman, truck and engine company No. 1, Alexandria, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for a good many years and they have always given me wonderful relief. My trouble was brought on by being out in all kinds of weather and catching colds which settled in my kidneys. Then my back got sore and weak and I could hardly get around. The kidney secretions passed irregularly and made me get up often at night. However, I find I can rely on Doan's Kidney Pills to give me the desired relief. My kidneys have never been in bad condition since I started using Doan's Kidney Pills for those attacks."

Officials at the White House today stated that the President has not yet received the letter from Mrs. Ella Fried in which she suggests a 50 per cent reduction in armaments. Mrs. Fried already has written two letters to the President on the question of disarmament and brought forth from the President the emphatic statement that the forthcoming conference is not to consider disarmament but the limitation of future construction of armaments.

RAILROADS HEADS REFUSE UNION WAGE REQUEST

the transportation system was facing one of its greatest crises, but also refused to make predictions.

Union leaders freely admitted, however, that there had been little harmony btween the committees in the conference.

The executives previously had announced that the proposals to pass future wage reductions on to the public by applying to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a reduction in freight and passenger rates had been accepted by the executives and that all future wage reductions would be met by a corresponding rate reduction.

The conference was begun at the suggestion of the union leaders, their invitation for a meeting being accepted by the rail heads following the announcement concerning freight rates. As the meeting started the committee appointed by the Association of Railway Executives declared that they believed it would settle most of the immediate difficulties between the carriers and their employes.

The labor committee was composed of Mr. Lee; Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors; W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and P. C. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of America.

BRADSHAW—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear sister, MARTHA BRADSHAW, who departed this life one year ago today, October 15, 1920.

Dear sister you have left me,
And I miss you more and more,
But some day I hope to meet you
When the toils of life are over.

14 U. VA MEN AT CONVENTION

Charlottesville, Oct. 15.—A large number of Charlottesville physicians including several members of the University of Virginia medical faculty and hospital staff have announced their intention of attending the annual meeting of the Virginia State Medical Society in Lynchburg, October 18 to 21. There is unusual interest here in this meeting of the society this year and the Charlottesville and University delegation will be the largest to attend an annual meeting.

Four members of the University medical faculty are on the program of the Lynchburg meeting: Dean Theodore Hough will discuss "Problems in Medical Education"; Dr. Stephen H. Watts, "Cancer of the Gall Blader;" Dr. John H. Neff, "Surgery of the Prostate Glans" and Dr. D. C. Smith, "Treatment of Urosyphilis".

Members of the University medical faculty believe that while the medical school removal controversy will be discussed at the meetings in Lynchburg that it is hardly probable that a vote on the location of the state supported medical school will be taken. This is in accordance with the intention expressed in the majority report and the signers of this report have gone on record as stating that such a referendum would be manifestly unfair to the supporters of the University location on account of the preponderance of alumni of the Medical School of Virginia in the society. In the face of this expression in the majority report should such a vote be taken it would have little or no significance in the controversy.

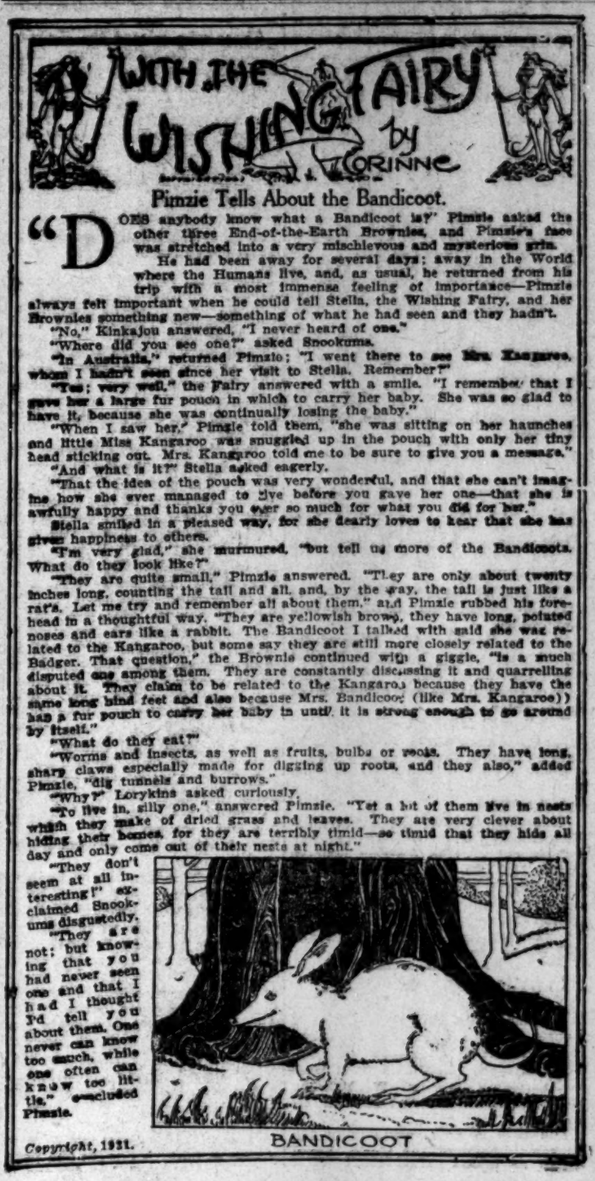
"SERVICE BUILT IT"



WITH THE WISHING FAIRY
by CORINNE
Pimzie Tells About the Bandicoot.
"DOES anybody know what a Bandicoot is?" Pimzie asked the other three End-of-the-Earth Brownies, and Pimzie's face was stretched into a very mischievous and mysterious grin.
He had been away for several days; away in the World where the Humans live, and, as usual, he returned from his trip with a most immense feeling of importance—Pimzie always felt important when he could tell Stella, the Wishing Fairy, and her Brownies something new—something of what he had seen and they hadn't.
"No," Kinkajou answered, "I never heard of one."
"Where did you see one?" asked Snookums.
"In Australia," returned Pimzie; "I went there to see Mrs. Kangaroo, whom I hadn't seen since her visit to Stella. Remember?"
"Yes; very well," the Fairy answered with a smile. "I remember that I gave her a large fur pouch in which to carry her baby. She was so glad to have it, because she was continually losing the baby."
"When I saw her," Pimzie told them, "she was sitting on her haunches and little Miss Kangaroo was snuggled up in the pouch with only her tiny head sticking out. Mrs. Kangaroo told me to be sure to give you a message."
"And what is it?" Stella asked eagerly.
"That the idea of the pouch was very wonderful, and that she can't imagine how she ever managed to live before you gave her one—that she is awfully happy and thanks you ever so much for what you did for her."
Stella smiled in a pleased way, for she dearly loves to hear that she has given happiness to others.
"I'm very glad," she murmured, "but tell us more of the Bandicoots. What do they look like?"
"They are quite small," Pimzie answered. "They are only about twenty inches long, counting the tail and all, and, by the way, the tail is just like a rat's. Let me try and remember all about them," and Pimzie rubbed his forehead in a thoughtful way. "They are yellowish brown, they have long, pointed noses and ears like a rabbit. The Bandicoot I talked with said she was related to the Kangaroo, but some say they are still more closely related to the Badger. That question," the Brownie continued with a giggle, "is a much disputed one among them. They are constantly discussing it and quarrelling about it. They claim to be related to the Kangaroo because they have the same long hind feet and also because Mrs. Bandicoot (like Mrs. Kangaroo) has a fur pouch to carry her baby in until it is strong enough to go around by itself."
"What do they eat?"
"Worms and insects, as well as fruits, bulbs or roots. They have long, sharp claws especially made for digging up roots, and they also," added Pimzie, "dig tunnels and burrows."
"Why?" Lorykins asked curiously.
"To live in, silly one," answered Pimzie. "Yet a lot of them live in nests which they make of dried grass and leaves. They are very clever about hiding their homes, for they are terribly timid—so timid that they hide all day and only come out of their nests at night."
"They don't seem at all interesting!" exclaimed Snookums disgustedly.
"They are not; but knowing that you had never seen one and that I had I thought I'd tell you about them. One never can know too much, while one often can know too little," concluded Pimzie.

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

Virginia Lodge 1076 Loyal Order of Moose. Meets 1st and 3rd Mondays.

Mooseheart is an estate of 1,023 acres of land, thirty-five miles west of Chicago on the Fox River, between the cities of Aurora and Batavia, Illinois.

The title of this estate is in the Supreme Lodge of the world, Loyal Order of Moose. Mooseheart is a home and vocational training school for dependent children of deceased members of the order. There are 1,035 children at Mooseheart, but all plans are based on ultimate population of 5,000 children. The residential part of Mooseheart resembles a modern village and consists of about seventy buildings of modern concrete fireproof construction, with red tile roofs. There is a central heating and power plant, large modern print shop, and a high school building, large assembly hall, several industrial shops, a modern farm plant and dormitories and residences.

The educational features are highly vocational and practical. About 25 of the most usual crafts are being operated as a part of the educational work. Students courses for boys are general farming, horse husbandry, swine husbandry, horticulture, florestry, dairyman, carpentry, electrical, sign painting and lettering, cement work, printing, automobile repairing, mill work, machinist, drafting, modeling, shorthand and typewriting.

The girls have a somewhat similar arrangement for vocational training, although, of course, their opportunities are not as great as are those for boys. They include sewing, millinery, domestic science, dietitics, typewriting shorthand, modeling, printing and music.

JUNIOR ORDER OF MOOSE

A Junior Order of Moose is now being organized. For further particulars see Jas. A. Hulfish, 616 North Washington Street.

MOOSEHEART LEGION

Alexandria chapter No. 378 Women of Mooseheart Legion meets 2nd and 4th Mondays.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Those who missed the Knights of Columbus, Columbus Day Celebration truly missed a treat. For three-quarters of an hour Brother Andrew J. Hickey, a prominent Washington attorney, held the interest of over a hundred members who were present for the occasion, and the masterly way in which he enunciated the dutduties of American Citizenship clearly showed the interest that the speaker has taken in civic affairs and how well he merits his position among the leading citizens of the national capital.

Following the address by Brother Hickey and the other speakers, the entertainment committee for the period 1920-1921, headed by George J. Jaeger, were on hand with an abundance of excellent ice-cream and cake and plenty of smokes. In all the occasion was voted by those present as a banner one, and one that will long be remembered.

The Knights of Columbus have made but few "foreign" visits, but the one that was made to Falls Church at the beginning of last summer was indeed a great success. Over one hundred members of Fitzgerald Council were present in St. James Hall on the evening when the Alexandria organization held their first meeting in our nearby little town. The meeting was a most interesting one, and the program included several addresses and a wonderful display of feminine generosity in the form of a most lavish tender of home made cake and ice cream from the good ladies of Fall Church. The members of Fitzgerald Council won't be expecting this time all these good things from the lady folks of Fall Church, but it is safe to say that when they do get to Falls Church it will be quite difficult to forget the things that helped on the last occasion to make the Falls Church affair the enjoyable outing that it was.

Let me introduce to you, Ladies and Gentlemen, our new lecturer, Mr. Ray mond Hellmuth. Brother Hellmuth's duty is to provide ways and means to promote a greater interest in council activities, and upon him devolves the duty of instructing his brothers at the regular meetings in those thing that go make them better informed Americans. He must provide humor and fun in the way of interesting speakers, and we wish him in his undertaking all kinds of good luck.

The new club rooms are fine. Everybody that has seen them says that they are tip top, and something to be well proud of. Someday a granite structure may rise under the patronage of the K of C, but for the next few years our present quarters are will suited for our needs and will afford to us that "home" atmosphere that is the ideal of every fraternal organization.

The Alexandria K of C are not the only ones who had a good time on Columbus Day. In Washington the Fourth Degree Knights had a celebration at which they were honored by the presence of Dr. James Montgomery of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and who is at present the Chaplain of the National House of Representatives. Dr. Montgomery gave a most interesting address, and his presence at the K of C celebration was a contribution to that broadness and friendliness between different creeds—an ideal that the Knights of Columbus have always endeavored to promote, and which they successfully realized during the recent war when an American was an American, no matter whether he was a Catholic, a Protestant or a Jew.

ALEXANDRIA COUNCIL, O. F. A.

During the evening addresses were delivered by members of the order which were well received. At the next meeting of the Council the degrees of the Order will be conferred, and plans made for attending the District Council meeting.

B. P. O. ELKS

H. A. Stewart, exalted ruler; Geo. W. Bontz, secy.

The regular meeting of the Alexandria Lodge, No. 758. Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was held last Monday night and much routine business was disposed of. The next regular meeting of the order will be held on Monday night, October 24, and a good attendance is desired as business of much importance is to be brought before the Lodge. A dance committee was appointed at the last meeting and it is expected that it will make a very interesting report at the next meeting.

WHY FRESH AIR IS GOOD MEDICINE

PROF. C.-E. A. WINSLOW, Yale University, New Haven.

EVERYONE knows that fresh air is one of the best medicines and incidentally one of the cheapest. More and more doctors are prescribing "the fresh air cure" for all sorts of diseases. Yet not all people know fresh air when they see it or realize to what it owes its tonic qualities. Here are the principal signs by which you may know "fresh air."

(1) Fresh air is cool air. Air that is above 68° F is always harmful except for very old people. Whenever the indoor temperature rises above this point the circulation is upset, one tends to become dull, languid, and inefficient, and the delicate membranes of the nose and throat are injured so as to cause a great liability to colds and other respiratory diseases.

(2) Fresh air is moving air. Still air blankets the body and produces a deadening, numbing effect. Air in gentle motion stimulates the skin.

(3) Fresh air is moderately moist air. Either very dry or very humid air is harmful.

(4) Fresh air is variable air. Slight changes in temperature and humidity are stimulating and wholesome for the body.

These four qualities are always found to the best advantage out of doors and it is for this reason that sleeping, working and living in the open is one of the best ways of keeping the body fit, vigorous and efficient.

When you must be indoors, don't forget your good friend, the thermometer. The best thing that ever happened for the health of the children of New York was a regulation requiring the placing of a thermometer on the front of every teacher's desk, with a heavy red line opposite 68 degrees. A thermometer of this kind in every living room and work place, with somebody watching it to turn off heat or open windows as soon as the temperature passes 68 degrees, would cut in half the number of colds and other nose and throat diseases from which Americans suffer as a result of overheating.

ATTRACTIONS NEXT WEEK IN WASHINGTON

FRANCES WHITE IN "PHI PHI," IS A POLI BILL

"The Speed Girl" a Rialto Attraction---An American Premiere at Shubert-Garrick.

The production of a play by Richard Walton Tully is always an event of unusual moment in the theatre, and on Monday evening, October 17, Washington playgoers will be the fortunate witnesses of the American premiere of "The Right to Strike," the sensational dramatic success of the past London season. The high standard which Tully has steadily maintained with his presentations of "The Bird of Paradise," "The Masquerader," "Keep Her Smiling," "Omar, the Tentmaker," etc., will be fully equalled if not surpassed by his latest offering.

New Daniels' Picture

She craved speed, did pretty Betty Lee, reckless heroine of "The Speed Girl," Bebe Daniels' latest Realart picture, which opens week's engagement at Moore's Rialto Theatre in the near future.

This swiftly moving comedy drama is a gentle satire on the modern mania for speed, and amusingly shows how modern children and young people develop a craze for swift locomotion.

Frances White in "Phi Phi"

Frances White, in the new musical piece, "Phi Phi," will be the attraction at Poli's Theatre next week. Miss White is going to be a great favorite among theatregoers. She is an enormously talented little comedienne, for besides being an excellent actress she is unusually expert in the singing of comic songs, and is a dancer par excellence. The Messrs. Shubert have provided Miss White with a particularly able company and a "chorus of Broadway beauties."

Girls Galore

A smart, up-to-the-minute Burlesque entitled, "Step Lively, Girls," will be the attraction next week at the Gayety Theatre. Plenty of beautiful girls with Hughie Clark, and Emerson and Baldwin, are the features.

Ting-A-Ling

Next week's attraction at the Capitol Theatre will be Chas. Franklyn's presentation of the mighty burlesque, "Ting-A-Ling." With I. B. Hamp and beauty chorus, and the popular "Hamp"-er Scamper Burlesque, the week promises to be one of unusual attractiveness.

IN MEMORIAM

BEACH—In loving memory of my dear son and brother, ELIZE C. BEACH, who departed this life three years ago today, October 14th, 1918.

The month of October once more is here,
To us the saddest of the year,
Because three years ago today,
Our loving son and brother passed Away.

We often sit and think of you,
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
Our grief can call its own.

The depth of our sorrow we cannot tell,
At the loss of one we loved so well
And while you lie in peaceful sleep
The sad memory ow you we shall always keep.

We shall never cease to love you,
Though your form be in the dust,
And some day we shall be with you
To this end, "In God We Trust."
Gone but not forgotten,

May his soul rest in peace.
His devoted Mother and 245-1p. Brother.
